THE GAZETTE.

SATURDAY, JULY 3.

The republicans of other states may learn a pretty good lesson from the republicans of Pennsylvania. A party which is never afraid to do right will have the majority on its side.

Democratic newspapers are not agreed as to the propriety of whitewashing the attorney general of the United States. Partisans like the whitewash—those above partisanship do not.

Senator Beck, of Kentucky, says he is ashamed of the democratic majority in the house of representatives. There are a good many thousands of people who are in the same condition as Mr. Beck.

As long as the president has got his hand in the veto business, suppose that he slaps a veto on the river and harbor bill. Here is a chance for Mr. Cleveland to make the country smile audibly.

A splendid tribute to a splendid man: "I never heard a word of envy from his lips, and I never saw a gleam of malice in his eye," said Rev. Dr. Bartol, speaking of his life long friend, the late Edwin P. Whipple.

The Oshkosh Times, democratic, says the cabinet is no place for a stock-jobber, and therefore suggests that Garland should resign. But as this administration is in the job business, it is not likely that the attorney general will resign.

During the past twenty-five years Edward Payson Weston has walked, professionally, 64,000 miles. A London physician who examined him recently pronounced him to be the healthiest man he had ever seen.

Senator Stanford, of California, says he has been feeding tramps at his ranch during the past year at a cost of $200 a month, and all the time was in need of good work hands. Tramps are not the kind of men that want work.

Mr. Morrison ought not to complain because Mr. Randall's bill seeks to increase the custom revenues. The way congress is managing financial matters, the customs will have to be increased in order to meet the demands on the treasury.

The toy-pistol will begin its fatal work in the large cities to-morrow. From the use of toy-pistols on the 4th of July, 1879, reports showed that 113 boys died of lockjaw. And on every Fourth since that time the fatalities from the same cause averaged from 35 to 100 each year.

Peter S. McNally, a Boston boy twenty-one years old, has saved nearly forty persons from drowning, and has received the medal of the Massachusetts Humane society. He learned to swim when five years old and began his career as a life saver two years later. Once he was called upon to rescue the same man two days in succession. A medal is a very poor thing for a boy who has to work hard for his bread, and suppose the Massachusetts Humane society be not only humane, but generous, and give Peter a few thousands. It is rich and is able to do it.

A very wise statement from the democratic New York World on a very democratic subject: The democratic report of the Pan-electric telephone committee was presented to the house yesterday by the chairman, Mr. Boyle, accompanied by a resolution. The report is an apology for the conduct of the distinguished gentlemen who allowed themselves to be drawn into association with the speculative enterprise, while at the same time it is intended to be a labored justification of their action. The democratic members of the committee seem to overlook the fact that justifiable acts do not stand in need of apology.

THE STATE SUPERINTENDENT.

There has been some talk of nominating Robert Graham, the present state superintendent, for a third term. The Milwaukee Sentinel of last Tuesday, contained a communication from its correspondent at Madison, in which Mr. Graham was very strongly endorsed for a renomination. This seems to have somewhat aroused the jealousies of some one, and on Friday Mr. Graham caused the following to be published:

Allow me through your columns to express to the electors of Wisconsin my appreciation of the confidence repose in me for five years; and to say that I am not a candidate for re-election to the office of state superintendent.

ROBERT GRAHAM.

This settles the matter so far as Mr. Graham is concerned, and we presume the contest for the nomination will be between W. H. Chandler, the present assistant superintendent, and J. B. Thayer, of the River Falls normal school. It would seem that as between the two men, Mr. Chandler has the advantage. He has filled his present office several years with commendable ability. He is a practical educator, and as he thoroughly understands the workings of the office he would carry to the position of superintendent, experience that would enable him to fill the office with signal ability.

THE REPUBLICAN PARTY AND PROHIBITION.

The republican state convention of Pennsylvania did a wise thing in adopting a resolution favoring the submission to the people of a prohibitory amendment to the constitution regarding the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors. The question whether it was a good stroke of policy, does not enter the question. The only point to be considered is whether the resolution bears the stamp of justice. Of course it does. As to whether a prohibitory amendment can be carried in Pennsylvania if submitted, has nothing to do with it. As a rule, there is a sentiment of considerable strength prevailing in nearly every state favorable to the submission of that question. Every fair minded man, whether he is a prohibitionist or not, will agree that it is but simple justice to submit such a question to the people and leave the result to them.

The New York republican legislature made a serious blunder when it voted down the joint resolution which provided for the submission of a prohibitory amendment to the people. There were republicans enough in the legislature to carry the resolution through, but there was a solid democratic vote against it and the few republicans who were allied to the liquor interest, voted with the democrats, and the proposition was defeated.

There is a wide difference between the two parties on the question of submitting prohibitory amendments to the people. While a majority of the republicans of the New York legislature were in favor of it, the democrats voted solidly against it. While the republicans of the Pennsylvania state convention adopted a platform plank favoring a submission of a prohibitory amendment, the democratic state convention of Iowa adopted a resolution favoring the repeal of the prohibitory law.

The time has come when the parties must meet this question as it should be met. It is not for them to say whether prohibition is right or wrong. It is simply their duty to allow such an amendment to be submitted to the people and let them bear the responsibility of its adoption or rejection. This is a very important matter and it should be met in a fair and liberal spirit.

THE CUSTER MASSACRE.

A correspondent writing to the St. Paul Pioneer-Press, makes some strong assertions in an article regarding the cause of the disaster to General Custer and his men Montana ten years ago. The correspondent says that Custer, as well as some other officers (Haven and Gibbon), schemed to obtain command of the expedition against the Indians on the Little Big Horn. When at last General Terry was placed in command, Custer became guilty of insubordination, and accompanied the column from Fort Lincoln to the mouth of the Rosebud river under arrest, while his regiment, the Seventh cavalry, was under command of Major Reno. On the evening before the latter regiment started on its fatal march, General Terry sent for Custer, and, in the presence of a third party, now dead, restored the colonel to the command of his regiment, at the same time explaining to him the position and location of the Indian camp on the Little Big Horn. Gen. Terry, taking a map, marked out a plan to be followed in attacking the village, which was that Custer and his party were to make a three days' march to a certain position south of the Indian camp, while Terry would, in the same number of days, secure a position northeast of the Indians, who would then be between the two pursuing bodies. Custer acquiesced in the plan, received his written orders, and left the tent. Outside he met a captain of the Sixth infantry and to him remarked: "I've got my regiment at last, and intend to do as I d—d please." The result was that the cavalry marched fast the time set, but, instead of consuming three days, the distance marked was covered in twenty-four hours. Custer immediately divided his forces, and made the attack—with the lamentable result known. The correspondent adds that in a little safe at headquarters are the papers which would shed light on the whole matter. The story bears no air of plausibility. Maj. Reno was accused of not aiding his chief with all his power when the Indians left the former, and concentrated all their strength for the annihilation of the latter, and it is possible that some ill feeling between the two officers may have existed. A military camp is a little world of its own, and what might appear to an outside civilian as a mere trifle, may move the soldier or officer to the commission of one of the gravest (if not the gravest) of military offenses—disobedience.

But Custer's marching in disobedience of orders from General Terry is not new. The history of that fatal march and of the terrible massacre, which occurred on the 25th of June, 1875, was very fully given at the time, and the agreement of Terry and Custer made public, as well as the daring disobedience of the latter. In due time there will be still more strange things come to light in regard to General Custer. His life, such as it was, has never been written, but important fragments of it will shortly, we understand, be put in type, and then the public will have an opportunity to know what manner of a man General George A. Custer was.

WORLD'S PASTIME EXPOSITION.

Special to the Gazette.

CHICAGO, July 3—The formal opening to-day of the World's Pastime exposition at Cheltenham Beach was in every way a pronounced success. Arrangements had been perfected by the Illinois Central railroad and the steamboat companies for the transportation of one hundred thousand people and it is expected that by night fully that number will have visited the grounds. Special trains began running as early as eight o'clock, and by noon over twenty thousand people had reached the beach. A large number of invited guests from Michigan, Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin, Indiana, Minnesota, etc., arrived in the city this morning, and were conveyed to the beach by two palace steamers brought specially from Detroit, and a special train of twelve cars. The formal opening ceremonies were commenced in front of the main pavilion shortly after two o'clock. Prayer having been offered the assemblage was called to order by Hon. Malcom McNeill, and the hymn "America" was rendered by a chorus of two hundred and fifty male and female voices. The opening address was then delivered by President McNeil; and after the rendition of the "Star Spangled Banner," by Austin's Military band, orations were delivered by Mayor Carter H. Harrison, Senator W. E. Mason and other prominent speakers. Subsequently the invited guests formed in procession and visited the various exhibits and pavilions, after which a special performance of Pinafore by the Home Opera company, was given on the deck of one of the palace steamers. This evening there will be various amusements and at eleven o'clock the great pyrotechnic spectacle of the "Destruction of Pompeii," will bring the ceremonies to a conclusion.

The World's Pastime exposition, which was formally opened to-day, is a Coney Island and a London Crystal Palace combined. Cheltenham Beach fronts on Lake Michigan, twenty-five minutes' ride from the business center. The Industrial exposition, which occupies several pavilions, is classified into twenty departments, representing every class of manufactured articles pertaining to the pleasures and pastimes of the people. The grounds are extensive and handsomely arranged, and a special feature of the pavilions is one devoted to the press, where hundreds of daily papers representing every state are on file for the convenience of visitors. There is a track where horse races will be run by electric light, a bicycle track and numerous other features. Bench, horse and poultry shows, a Knights tournament, sham naval engagements, regattas and yacht races, shooting contests, prize drills of military and numerous other entertainments of a national character will take place at the grounds during the ensuing three months.

CELEBRATION.

THE OLDEST INHABITANT OF MASSACHUSETTS CELEBRATES HER 101 ANNIVERSARY.

Special to the Gazette.

WORCESTER, Mass., July 3d.—Worcester's oldest inhabitant is to-day celebrating her birthday. Her name is Mrs. Mary Gould, and she is 100 years old to-day. She thus celebrates her 100th birthday and the 110th anniversary of American independence. Notwithstanding her advanced age she is in the best of health and spirits and manifests a sprightliness which would do credit to one seventy years her junior. Her residence was besieged this morning with friends and neighbors bearing congratulations.

JOLIET, Ill., July 3d.—The national anniversary and completion of the court house were celebrated to-day with elaborate exercises.

THE WHEELMEN.

Several noted wheelmen from St. Louis, Milwaukee, and other points have entered for the races which occur this afternoon and evening.

A Story of Victor Emmanuel.

The following story is told of Victor Emmanuel: The king and one of his friends, Signor J., had taken shelter for the night in the hut of a countryman, who had not the remotest idea of the identity of his illustrious guest. The king noticed that Signor J., who was sitting near the fire next the host, kept turning away his head. "What is the matter with you?" asked king in French. "I can't stand the smell of this man," said J., "he smells like a wild beast." "Bah!" said the king; "any of us would smell like that if we went for a week without washing." "O, never!" "Yes, we would; I'll try it myself." So the king went to work conscientiously, and never washed himself the least little bit in the world. At the end of five days J. came up to him, and, touching him respectfully on the elbow, said: "Your majesty has won your bet, and not the end of a week, but of five days." The king shouted with laughter, and was highly delighted with the whole adventure.—Chicago Tribune.

RATHER ROUGH ON THE BOYCOTT.

Prosecutors of That Sort of Labor Warfare Given Long Sentences.

NEW YORK, July 3.—The convicted boycotters of Theiss, the proprietor of a concert garden, were arraigned in court Friday for sentence. Judge Barrett made some strong remarks to them on the lawlessness of the crime of which they were convicted. He said that this was a violation of peace in a country that welcomed foreign-born citizens. They had violated public rights and opinions and their offense was not short of blackmail. The distribution of circulars before places of business was conspiracy, and punishable as such. Their conduct, if unpunished, would lead to savagery. They may have been misled by bad advice, but their counsel should have rebuked them. They did not use the money for their own advantage and this palliated their offense. He would not impose the full penalty of the law, as they were workingmen.

The judge then sentenced Paul Wiltzig and Henry Holdorf to two years and ten months at hard labor; Michael Stroh and Julia Rosenberg to one year and six months imprisonment. Daniel Dannenhauser, the most violent of any of the boycotters, got three years and eight months in state prison.

After sentencing the five Theiss boycotters, Judge Barrett called the cases of the sixteen Bohemians indicted for boycotting Mrs. Landgraff, the baker. Lawyer Herman, their counsel, asked an adjournment, presenting an affidavit supporting the motion. Judge Barrett asked Herman if it was true that the boycott was still being waged against Mrs. Landgraff. Herman replied that he had urged his clients to let the woman alone, and he supposed they had done so.

Assistant District Attorney Follows excitedly addressed the court, declaring that the boycott was still in force, and that Mrs. Landgraff's receipts Thursday were only 50 cents, whereas before the boycott she required two wagons to supply her customers. Judge Barrett said he would grant an adjournment until Wednesday. He would avoid any shadow of oppression against these men, though they were accused of oppressing others. The cases were set down for Wednesday next.

WHAT THEY THINK OF IT.

Various Senatorial Views of the Civil Service Law—No Money for Tanglefoot.

WASHINGTON CITY, July 3.—After a debate on the civil service law, Friday, in which Vance and Salisbury advocated its repeal, legalls showed that all the appointments under it now were Democrats, Voorhees wanted it to have a fair chance and supported the appointments under it by each party as far as possible of its own men. Hawley declared it stronger with the people now than ever before, and Call said that neither Democrats nor Republicans from his state could get office under it, the senate adopted an amendment to the legislative bill, giving the commission an additional clerk—26 to 11. Amendments were adopted increasing the salaries of assistant treasurers at Baltimore and Boston to $4,000 and $5,000, respectively, and those of the pension commissioner and patent commissioner to $5,000. The amendment increasing the salary of treasury solicitor to $4,500 was rejected, the bill passed, and the river and harbor appropriation taken up. It was laid aside, however, and resolutions on the death of Representative Hunn adopted after eulogies had been pronounced, when the senate adjourned.

The house passed the bill forfeiting lands granted certain southern states in aid of railways, with the senate amendment excepting the Gulf & Ship Island railway. The lands granted six railways are forfeited by the bill. A petition from the Knights of Labor urging the passage of pending labor bills was presented. The house then, in committee of the whole, took up the general deficiency bill and rejected an item appropriating for the expenses incurred by the naval academy board of visitors in the purchase of beer, cognac brandy and Santa Cruz rum. After finishing forty-three of the 116 pages of the bill the house took recess till 7 p. m., the evening session to be for pension bills, but at that time got into a deadlock and adjourned without accomplishing any thing.

GEN. SICKLES ON GETTYSBURG.

How He Won the Fight by Getting a Licking—His Premature Advance.

GETTYSBURG, Pa., July 3.—The third army corps held their reunion Friday on the ground over which they fought the second day's battle twenty-three years ago. Most of the officers and a great number of the men who wore the diamond army corps badge were present and received their old Commander General Sickles with great enthusiasm, and listened with close attention to his carefully prepared explanation of "how he won the Gettysburg battle by being defeated." The general made a very satisfactory showing for himself and his corps. His address was listened to by his own staff as well as by such distinguished Gettysburg heroes as Gens. Hunt, Badeau, Tremaine, Carr, etc., to whom the general frequently appealed for confirmation of his statements. The general claimed that his "premature advance" saved the Union army from defeat and saved the position, as he had information that Gen. Lee proposed to attack Gen. Meade's left and to seize the Round Tops at the time Meade was preparing for fight on his extreme right. He said that if he had been supported in his position the Confederate army would have been destroyed.

A reunion of both of the Federal and Confederates engaged on this field is proposed for next July, Gens. Longstreet and McLaws having signified in the most cordial manner approval of the suggestion.

NOT AN INCENDIARY FIRE.

The Recent Boston Holocaust Caused by a Glue-Pot.

BOSTON, July 3.—An investigation into the origin of the recent Institute fire demonstrates the fact that it was caused by the accidental catching fire of a glue-pot which was left with a lighted lamp under it for a few minutes by one of the workmen while he went to sharpen a chisel. On his return he discovered the whole glue-pot arrangement ablaze. He grabbed it and started for the door, but the door was locked. He had no key and was compelled to drop the burning mass on the floor. He then started to give alarm, but before the engines could arrive the fire had gotten beyond control, the sad result being already known.

Robbed for the Second Time.

NEWPORT, R. I., July 3.—Admiral Baldwin's villa was robbed Friday morning of all the silverware. The villa was robbed last summer of several thousand dollar's worth of jewelry, some of which was lately found buried in the vicinity. Admiral Baldwin is absent from home. Some of the plate stolen is especially valuable on account of its age and unique pattern.

Kicking Made But Little Difference.

"A little story" brings to mind with renewed force the old proverb, "truth is stranger than fiction." We were talking of what disposition to make of a kicking cow, when our hired man said:

"I guess I can find a customer for her. There's an Irishman up in R——who bought a cow from one of our neighbors. He told the Irishman that he must tell him one thing about the cow before he closed the bargain—that the cow would sometimes kick."

The tender "God-ordained protector" of our sex replied:

"That makes no difference; my wife does the milking."

I have often heard such things told, and have sometimes thought they must have been made up "to point a moral or adorn a tale." But this is a fact; for I questioned the man about it and he said he knew it was true.—Woman's Journal.

A Rich Woman's Recreations.

I could not but be struck by the variety offered to a woman like Mrs. Astor, for instance, as I saw her quietly drop in after the gorgeous Chapman-Mortimore wedding breakfast still in her grand toilet and her fabulous rubies in her ears to a quiet meeting of the Causeries, a small literary club, to hear a paper read on jewelry and one on lace. The latter paper, by Mrs. J. B. Johnston, was very learned and most interesting, and the room was surrounded with the most beautiful collection of antique lace, much of it from Mrs. Astor's own stores. Mrs. Johnston herself owns a great deal. This literary, quiet afternoon, in the midst of the excitement of Easter week, with its riot of weddings and dinners, was most refreshing.—New York Letter.

Worse Than None at All.

Said a practical physician once: "Spasmodic exercise is worse than none. A woman who habitually leads a sedentary life does herself more harm than good when she worries herself out by taking an absurdly long walk once or twice a month under the impression that exercise is always beneficial, and especially so when it leads to fatigue. A brisk walk of half a mile every day is far more advantageous than a five-mile tramp once a fortnight."—Medical Journal.

Has Never Granted a Degree.

Miss Alice Jordan, the young lady student in the Yale law school, will not be able to obtain the degree of bachelor of law from the university upon her graduation. Professor Dexter being asked said the matter had not even been considered by the corporation, and added: "The corporation has never granted a degree to a woman and I don't think it ever will."—Exchange.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Dr. Clark A. Miner, was born in Allen, Allegany Co., N. Y., in 1832, of English and Scotch parentage. Longevity is marked on all his ancestry. With nerves as sensitive as the magnetic needle and muscles as strong as steel, with a well balanced frame to support them, it is apparent that he is a proper subject to possess this magnetic power in excess of other men. It is charged against us that we get this wonderful power from an electric battery worn upon our body and arms. This is false. We receive this power from our creator. You ask, what is it? We answer we don't know any more what it is than you do. We are daily healing the sick. All functional disturbances are controlled like magic by the laying on of hands, no medicines. The lame throw away their crutches and walk; life's current again courses through the palsied and withered limbs; the bloom of health flushes the pallid cheeks that death marked as its own, by the magical touch of a man's hand.

Since the Savior of man healed the multitudes, nothing has equaled the wonderful and miraculous healing of this phenomenal man. It does not require weeks or months to prove to the afflicted that they will be benefitted, results are manifested at once We care nothing for the cause of your ailment. We treat conditions only and all functional abnormal conditions are controlled and permanently cured without medicines. Dr. Miner has leased Mrs. S. H. Shelton's residence for the summer where he can be consulted from 9 to 12 m. and 1 to 5 and 7 to 8 p. m. Will make calls outside of office hours: jun30-1m

RETURNS LOOKING BADLY.

HOME RULE IN THE REAR SO FAR AS HEARD FROM.

Much Staying at Home Among English Liberals—Gladstone to Bright and the Welsh — Novel Election Incident — "Gath" on the Questions Involved—Aid from Brooklyn Republicans.

LONDON, July 3.—The chief feature of Friday's polling was the large number of electors who abstained from voting. In nearly every constituency heard from the number of votes cast falls far below that of last November. The Liberals have won seats for Eastfield, Southwest Manchester, North Manchester, and the exchange division of Liverpool. The Tories have won seats at South Salford, West Salford, Hereford, Hastings, Falmouth, and South Bristol, a net gain of two seats. The Unionist candidate at Newcastle-Under-Tyne retains his seat in spite of the tremendous efforts made to unseat him, and the Unionist candidate at Bristol is equally successful. Jacob Bright, brother of John Bright, and a Gladstonian, is elected for Manchester, and Sir Thomas Brassy, Gladstonian, who left Hastings to contest one of the Liverpool seats, is defeated. At Stockport the vote stands: Jennings (Tory) 4,702; Gedge (Tory) 4,495; Leigh (Liberal) 4,183; Davey (Liberal) 5,398. In the west division of Leeds Herbert Gladstone receives 5,226 votes (against 6,130 last fall), and Williams 2,970. It is feared that Friday's polling will have a depressing effect upon the Liberals.

W. S. Caine has been re-elected to parliament for Barrow-in-Furness by 1,400 majority. The very latest returns show 102 Tories, 14 Unionists, and 35 Liberals to have been elected.

A novel feature of the elections Friday was the return of Gladstone from two constituencies—Midlothian and a district known as the Leithburghs. W. Jacks, the Liberal member in the last parliament, was elected there by a large majority, and was very popular. He ran on the Unionist ticket this time, and the Gladstone men, fearing he would be elected, got Gladstone to stand against him. The Tories nominated no candidate, and the struggle was a bitter one, resulting, however, in a victory for Gladstone, who will probably sit for Midlothian and select a man to recontest Leith, with assurances of success.

ANOTHER GLADSTONE MANIFESTO.

He Appeals to the Welsh People in Behalf of Ireland.

LONDON, July 3.—Gladstone has issued a manifesto to the electors of Wales. "It is not the first, nor the tenth time," he says, "that the Tories have raised a cry of alarm and predicted the ruin of the empire. They have been at it all their lives, and always when those great and good measures were proposed which have made the age illustrious. The reform of parliament, the abolition of the corn laws, of slavery, of religious tests, of church rates, and the Irish church, the freedom of burials, the defence of tenants' rights, and many more. Which of these did they give you? Which did they not oppose and cry down as destructive to the constitution, the throne, religion, property, and all the rest.

People say the Irish will never be content. Nor would you be content if you had been oppressed as they have been, and above all, if, after you had had your own parliament 500 years, it had then been taken by a mixture of violence and corruption and a union which disgraces the name of England. This parliament the people of Ireland have ever striven to get back. They now ask, not for the repeal of the union, but only for a subordinate legislature as a colony. Give it to them because it is just that they should have it. Give it to them promptly and graciously, not waiting as Wellington waited to grant the emancipation of the Catholics, to yield under the terror of war. Let Wales upon this great occasion be worthy of herself."

Mr. Gladstone has written to Bright, protesting against the charges make by the latter in his speech at Birmingham, and answering and controverting them seriatim. He notices Bright's remark about his [Gladstone's] describing a conspiracy in Ireland marching toward the wreck of the empire. Gladstone says to Bright that he had described in 1881 a conspiracy against rent paying in Union counties. There is no such conspiracy now. Bright had charged him with a want of frankness because he had given no definite pledge for the government —had pledged it to no definite policy. This was certainly an unusual charge from an old colleague. Bright was surely not conversant with the government's bill and clearly could not have read the speech introducing it. Alluding to Bright's remark that he intended to thrust the land bill upon parliament, Gladstone says: "If I were capable of any such intention I wonder you ever took office with one so ignorant of the spirit of the constitution and of so arbitrary a character."

AN AMERICAN ADVOCATE

Of the Position Taken by the British Unionists.

CINCINNATI, July 3.—Gath, in his telegram to The Enquirer presents the following view of the Irish question: "I must confess that, while I have advocated consideration for Irish injuries, the letter of Bright set me to thinking. * * * The British Radicals have plainly cut away from Mr. Gladstone. Joseph Chamberlain is the most influential man in the most radical of British cities, Birmingham. * * * He would not have separated from Mr. Gladstone, it seems to me, except upon an invincible prejudice in favor of the British union. If we are ardent lovers of our Union, and unwilling to surrender any portion of it either to internal or external foes, why should not the British public man and stout subject be equally a Union man? If the United States, for example, possessed, in the late slave states, at the time of their secession, 3,000,000 of friends—men like Andrew Johnson, William G. Brownlow, Joseph Holt and John M. Botts—would it have been either considerate or just to have left these men out of any settlement, compromise or armistice with the secession movement? The abandonment would have seemed to most people cowardly. We can not therefore, forget that Ireland has somewhere between 1,000,000 and 2,000,000 people, natives there of long descent in the island, who have been firmly devoted to the British government. These persons have never abetted any hostilities against Great Britain; have never joined in any Fenian or other movements to injure her; have considered her queen and princes with thorough respect; and many of these are timorous about an Irish parliament."

MORE HELP FOR PARNELL.

Brooklyn Republicans Organizes to Raise Campaign Funds.

NEW YORK, July 3.—Gen. B. F. Tracy, Gen. J. S. Catlin, Hon. Bernard Peters, Gen. James Jourdan, and J. L. Follett, recently sent a circular marked "confidential" to a large number of other leading Republicans of Brooklyn asking them to meet for consultation Thursday night in the assembly rooms at 271 Fulton street, that city. The meeting was held accordingly and Gen. Tracy then for the first time made known to those present the object of the meeting. He stated that it was to raise money for the Parnell parliamentary fund among the Republicans of Brooklyn.

The object of the meeting having thus been made plain, Gen. Tracy appealed for a generous response to cry for aid in the home rule contest, in which he said Parnell was opposed by the ruling classes of England, who had plenty of funds to draw upon. The home rulers, appealed, he said, in the name of human liberty to the party which was identified with it in its broadest sense in America. Addresses in a similar view were also made by Mr. Follett, chairman of the King's county Republican general committee; Councilor Jesse Johnson, ex-Assemblyman W. H. Waring, Silas B. Dutcher, Gen. Catlin, Maj. E. H. Hobbs, and others. A committee of two from each ward was appointed to solicit subscriptions to the parliamentary fund, and it was agreed that the money collected shall be forwarded through Rev. Sylvester Malone, pastor of the church of St. Peter and St. Paul in the eastern district.

Friday morning Father Malone received a check for $1,000 from S. V. White, the broker, for the fund. It is said that at the first meeting at Mr. Johnston's house $3,000 were subscribed.

Incident of the British Elections.

DUBLIN, July 3.—Messrs. Sarsfield and Johnston Friday attempted to address the electors of Dublin university. The students jeered at them and resorted to all sorts of devices to drown their voices. The students finally attempted to mob both candidates, and would have succeeded had not the Rt. Hon. David Plunkett, Conservative candidate and member of the last parliament for Dublin university, interfered and prevented them. During the melee Mr. Sarfield's scarlet gown was torn from him and thrown to the mob, who quickly tore it pieces.

Warlike Speech by a Tory.

LONDON, July 3.—In a speech Friday night, Mr. Kynock, the head of a firm extensively engaged in the manufacture of firearms at Birmingham and the Tory candidate for Aston, said: "If the Loyalists of Ireland are obliged to appeal to arms I am prepared to contribute within forty-eight hours 10,000 as good rifles as were ever made and 2,000,000 cartridges." This declaration was received with deafening applause.

The Pope Not Taking a Hand.

LONDON, July 3.—Cardinal Manning writes that he is as likely to know as any man what the pope has done in the present political contest, and he does not hesitate to say that the prevailing notion that his holiness has told the clergy, and through them the Catholics of Great Britain and Ireland, how to vote is utterly fabulous. Men who believe such stories know little of the Catholic church.

Parnell Also Threatened.

LONDON, July 3.—Mr. Parnell is escorted wherever he goes during his campaign labors by a body guard of personal friends, all stalwart young Irishmen. He daily receives letters threatening him with injury or assassination, because of his efforts to "dismember the empire." He has declined to seek protection by the authorities.

CAN NOT SEE THE CONNECTION.

The President's Reasons for Objecting to a Pension Claim.

WASHINGTON CITY, July 3.—President Cleveland sent to the house Friday a message vetoing another private pension bill, granting a pension to William Boone. Boone, it seems, was taken prisoner in November, 1862, and paroled. During his parole he took part in the Fourth of July celebration in 1863 at his home in Aurora, Ills., and while so engaged was terribly injured by the discharge of cannon. Boone is a poor man and has a wife and children. The president, in disapproving this bill says he is utterly unable to discover any relation between this Fourth of July accident and the military service, or any reason why, if a pension be granted to Boone, there should not also be a pension granted to any of his companions who chanced to be injured at the same time. The president concludes the message with this general observation on private pension legislation: "A disabled man and wife and family in need are objects which appeal to the sympathy and charitable feelings of any decent man; but it seems to me that it by no means follows that those entrusted with the people's business and the expenditure of the people's money are justified in so executing the pension laws as that they shall furnish a means of relief in every case of distress or hardship."

BUSINESS AND CROP PROSPECTS.

What Bradstreets' Has to Say on the Subject.

NEW YORK, July 3.—Special telegrams to Bradstreets' say the interest in wool has receded from the central western states to Montana, Wyoming and Utah, where prices are held above eastern markets. The clip east of the Mississippi has been cleared up, though more largely by speculators than by manufacturers, prices having risen from 1 to 3 cents per pound within ten days.

Wheat prospects, aside from Wisconsin and Minnesota, are for a fair harvest. Estimates vary from 437,000,000 to 465,000,000 bushels. The foreign wheat prospects are less favorable, particularly in India. Bradstreets reports of stocks of wheat east of the Rocky mountains July 1, aggregate 35,000,000 bushels against 53,000,000 three months ago, and on the Pacific coast 6,000,000 bushels against 10,000,000 April 1.

The July cotton report shows that heavy rains have injured the growing crop so that the condition may be classed as fair only against good one year ago.

New Civil Service Reform Rule.

WASHINGTON CITY, July 3.—The civil service commission have adopted and directed a new method of organizing local examining boards for custom houses and post-offices thoughout the country, which was put in operation this week, when the annual reorganization of the boards took place. Under the new rule of organization the selections for presidents and secretaries of boards have to be submitted to the commission for their approval before the boards can proceed with examinations. If disapproved other officers must be selected. These instructions were sent out on June 30 and with them a caution to local boards to observe strictly the existing rule which requires them to make known the lists of eligibles to the commission and to the commission only.

And Why Not Determined?

CINCINNATI, July 3.—A game of base ball is advertised to take place here on Sunday next. As this is a violation of the law, Col. Deitch, chief of police, was asked what he would do about it, he said: "I have had the subject of base ball playing on Sunday under consideration, but have not yet determined whether I shall permit the game to go on next Sunday or not. I am determined, however, that there shall be no disturbance nor Sabbath-breaking here."

Riddleberger's Characteristic Remarks.

WASHINGTON CITY, July 3.—During the debate in the senate, Friday, on a motion to reduce the number of firemen, Riddleberger criticised the appropriation committee for cutting off poor laboring men, but taking care of itself. Instead of cutting off poor laboring men, he said, let them dismiss the tonsorial artist who splits the hair to cover bald places on senatorial heads and waxes the dudish mustaches of senators.

A Short Item from Kentucky.

SINKING CREEK, Ky., July 3.—Simons and Turkison, two incendiaries of the Simons faction, who burned several houses and a church in Elliott county last week, because the members of the church and occupants of the houses were opposed to moonshining, were overtaken by their victims, Mr. Parker and his friends Friday, and killed. More trouble is anticipated.

Restful Nights, Days Free from Torture.

Await the rheumatic sufferer who resorts to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. That this benignant cordial and depurent is a far more reliable remedy than colchicum and other poisons used to expel the rheumatic virus from the blood, is a fact that experience has satisfactorily demonstrated. It also enjoys the advantage of being—unlike them—perfectly safe. With many persons a certain predisposition to rheumatism exists, which renders them liable to its attacks after exposure in wet weather, to currents of air, changes of temperature, or to cold when the body is hot. Such persons should take a wine glass or two of the Bitters as soon as possible after incurring risk from the above causes, as this superb protective effectually nullifies the hurtful influence. For the functional derangements which accompany rheumatism, such as colic, spasms in the stomach, palpitation of the heart, imperfect digestion, &c., the Bitters is also a most useful remedy. It is only necessary in obstinate cases to use it with persistency.

Hay Fever and Rose Cold

are attended by an inflamed condition of the lining membrane of the nostrils, tear ducts and throat, affecting the lungs. An acrid mucus is secreted, the discharge is accompanied with a burning sensation. There are severe spasms of sneezing, frequent attacks of headache, watery and inflamed eyes. Ely's Cream Balm is a remedy that can be depended upon. 50 cents at druggists; by mail, registered, 60 cents. Ely Brothers, druggists, Owego, N. Y.

THE RAILWAY POSTAL CLERKS.

Proceedings That Look Like Serious Trouble in the Mail Service.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 3.—The grand lodge of railway postal clerks met in secret session here Friday. A membership of 600 clerks was represented, and the object was to consider the cases of certain experienced clerks who had been discharged on alleged false affidavits accusing them of conspiracy to cripple the service. It was decided to seek an interview with Postmaster General Vilas in the hope of securing an amicable settlement of the trouble, and a telegram was sent to that official, asking him if he would receive a committee from the organization.

No reply having been received at midnight, the lodge decided that the committee should do its duty and, in the event of Mr. Vilas' refusal to grant an interview, the action of the clerks should be governed by the grand lodge. The members are pledged to to submit their resignations whenever called for by the lodge, and the sentiment generally is in favor of summary proceedings. All of the men are old and experienced and their retirement would impair the railway mail service of the entire country.

POWDERLY IN NEW YORK.

He Denounces a Police Interference with a Labor Meeting.

NEW YORK, July 3.—The police of this city forced themselves into a secret meeting of the K. of L., at which Mr. Powderly was present, Thursday night, and prevented the meeting. Afterward one of the police officials said he would watch the K. of L. just as he would the anarchists. Referring to this matter, Friday, Mr. Powderly said: "I consider the conduct of the police outrageous. That meeting was made up of orderly, peaceable citizens, who had met to discuss important business of their own. I would never for a moment think of addressing a meeting that could come under the classification 'socialists, anarchists, or communists,' or a meeting of people who should be treated as disorderly persons. I intend to see Superintendent Murray on the subject, and leave nothing undone which will tend to fix the responsibility for that outrage where it belongs. I do not believe that the superintendent or the police commissioners will countenance or uphold what was none by their subordinates."

YALE ON ITS MUSCLE.

It was sundown before the crews got off, the race having been postponed because of roughness of the water, and at one time it was supposed that it would have to be abandoned altogether for the day. But the breeze died away as the day closed, and the water was perfect from start to finish—as smooth as a mill-pond.

It was considerably after 6 o'clock when the crews got into their shells and headed down stream for the starting point amid hurrahs and shouts from admirers on shore. At 6:30 the boats were in line, and at 6:32 the word to "go" was given by Referee Rives and the sixteen broad backs straightened and sixteen oars disappeared in the glassy surface of the Thames. The blue-tipped oars caught the water first and sent their boat slightly ahead, but the New Haven shell had hardly begun to move before the Harvard boat was off. The start was a beautiful one, and almost at the end of the second stroke the boats were bow and bow. Both crews were doing magnificent work. During the first minute Penrose cut out the pace of the Harvard crew at the rate of thirty-six strokes to the minute, while Yale was content to row only thirty-five.

From the moment that the oars first touched the water the difference in the strokes used was very noticeable. Harvard's was quick and "snappy," Yale's was was long, and seemed more powerful. At the same time both boats were jumping through the water. First Harvard would forge ahead, and then the blue-clad oarsmen would come up. At the half-mile stake Harvard was rowing thirty-six and Yale thirty-six, but Yale was evidently doing the best work.

Yale ended the first mile one length, nearly, in advance of Harvard. Both crews were working in fine form and there was no perceptible splashing. Yale continued to increase her lead, but went by the mile-and-a-half stakes rowing the same thirty-four strokes to Harvard's thirty-six. At the two-mile flag there was a length and a half of daylight between Yale and Harvard. Now Harvard set to work. After rowing two and a half miles her crew began to spurt magnificently, and closed upon Yale in a rapid and beautiful manner. This continued until both crews had finished the third mile, when Yale, without apparently increasing her stroke, again drew steadily from her opponent, rowing thirty-six to the minute. Yale went flying by the three-and-a-half mile flag, leaving Harvard away behind.

The distance between the boats was now about four lengths. In the last half-mile Yale was doing as good if not better work than she did in the first half of the race. Her form was perfect, while Harvard splashed frequently and was losing at every stroke. Yale continued to draw ahead and crossed the finish line fully five and a half lengths ahead of Harvard and rowing thirty-nine strokes to the minute, showing her capacity of doing even more than she had done at any time during the race. The race had been fairly rowed and the best crew had won. To say that the supporters of the blue were wild with delight is giving a very moderate estimate of their joy and glee. No sooner did the observation train land its passengers than many of them hastened to buy fireworks and proceeded to celebrate their great victory.

The time was as follows: Yale, 20:21¼; Harvard, 20:55½.

The crews were as follows: Yale—Robert Appleton, '86, bow; John Rodgers, Jr., '87; Joseph W. Middlebrooks, '87; Frederick A. Stevens, '88; F. C. Woodruff, '89; A. Cowles, captain, '86; C. P. Hartridge, '87; C. L. Caldwell, '87, stroke.

Harvard—G. S. Mumford, bow and captain: J. J. Colony, J. R. Locum, T. Romington, T. P. Burgess, W. H. Brooks, H. W. Keyes, R. A. F. Penrose, stroke.

Petition Against a Pension Veto.

WASHINGTON CITY, July 3.—Senator Miller, of New York, Friday, presented a petition from Daniel T. Schenck post, G. A. R., of Fulton, N. Y., praying for the passage over the president's veto of the bill granting a pension to the widow of Capt. Schenck. The petition states that the signers are well aware that the death of Capt. Schenck was the result of his army service, and maintains that the widow is justly entitled to a pension.

OMAHA, Neb., July 3.—Senator Pugh's daughter was rescued from a brutal husband here Thursday, by her brother, and taken to Alabama. The senator had been unable to learn her whereabouts for more than a year. The man she married turned out to be a worthless wretch, who kept her in confinement and beat her. Young Pugh threatened him with a revolver before he could get an interview with the unhappy woman.

MONTANA'S FRONTIER.

A CLASS OF WOMEN DIFFERENT FROM THOSE IN THE STATES.

Dames and Maidens Wonderfully Self-Reliant and Independent—Girls Who Are Bread-Winners, and no Mistake—In Politics—Forlorn Bachelors.

With the remarkable development of the western territories has grow up a class of women totally different from their sisters in the states. The very fact of being in a new wild country, often left alone to look after the herds and flocks, has made them wonderfully self-reliant and independent. I run across women up in this country so full of pluck, grit and endurance that I verily believe that in a stand-up fight with hostile Indians of marauding horse thieves they would be equal, man for man, to the same number of cowboys or soldiers. These ladies by reason of their wild life on the frontier do not by any means lose all the gentleness and refinement of their sex. To be sure, they become somewhat roughened by hardship and exposure, but through it all they still preserve their womanly traits, and when the necessity arises for them to ride, hunt or shoot, you will find them there, and in the end perhaps a little better off than a great many males would be under similar circumstances.

ALL KINDS OF WOMEN.

There are all kinds of women in the Northwest. From the cultured dames of our best cities the grade runs all the way down to the female road agent. But, as a rule, the girls of Montana are made of the very best material to be had on the continent. Scattered all over the broad prairies of Montana are refined and cultured women, bred in affluence and ease, proud, young and hopeful, called by the misfortunes of their husbands or led by their desires to enter and achieve in new fields the mission of life, to surrender society, the home and friends and scenes of their youth, and march boldly to a far-off wilderness and endure privation, toil, labor and suffering. But these women have grown to be brave, industrious, self-reliant, full of pluck and energy, perfect horsewomen, healthy, hearty, active and independent, and in many cases about as pretty and as plump as the very best of climates can make them. Now, the typical Montana girl if left alone will succeed where an ordinary man would fail. With no vices they stick closely to business, and if bent on tree claiming, homesteading or pre-empting a quarter, half or whole section of land, they generally stay by the claim to the end and prove up on time.

Many of these enterprising damsels wouldn't have a husband at any price. Again, many after laying the foundation of a comfortable fortune, are taken in by some lazy bachelor who comes loafing along, sees the chance, marries the maiden and settles down into a nice ready-made home. Our girls are bread-winners and no mistake. They are up to all sorts of schemes, such as ranching, herding of sheep or cattle, school superintendents and even politics.

THE RIGHT OF SUFFRAGE.

The latter should be expected, however, as the females of Montana have the right of suffrage extended to them in case they happen to be taxpayers. As nearly every woman in the territory is a taxpayer, why, of course, she votes, as she has a perfect right to do. In Bozeman, a few miles west of here, one can see plastered all over the town placards appealing to the passer-by to "Vote for Hamilton, the people's choice," or "Give your vote to Darcy," or "Vote for Nichols and reform." Hamilton, Nichols and Darcy were candidates for the school superintendency of the county, and a fourth candidate was in the field—a man. It is needless to add that "the horrid man" was beaten by all three of the girls, Hamilton coming out ahead.

There is no question but what female suffrage is a benefit to Montana. Female jurors in cases which involve intemperance, breaches of promise and gaming would hang a culprit on moderate testimony. Yet with all this, girls are scarce in Montana. The town of M. den close by (the county seat of Fergus county), whose name is suggestive of wit, beauty, etc., is in fact a safe retreat for bachelors, since there is not an unmarried lady in the town. Sadie, whence these lines are being penned, is a community of forlorn bachelors with not a female within a radius of fifteen miles, excepting the Crow squaws in the neighboring Indian camp. One old bachelor wandering around the village has a $70,000 bank account and no one to help him spend it.—Sadie (M. T.) Cor. San Francisco Chronicle.

An Indian Funeral in Oregon.

A gentleman who has recently returned from eastern Oregon gives an account of a rather singular procession he saw in Umatilla county. It was an Indian funeral procession. The defunct had been set upon a horse, and a stick had been lashed along each side of his body, to keep it in an upright position. The head was not supported in any way, and as the horse trotted along the body seemed bowing in every direction, and the head shaking in a horribly grotesque manner. The widow, dressed in her mourning paint, trotted along behind on a lazy mule, to which she kept vigorously applying the whip.—Chicago Herald.

New Style of Lawn Ornamentation.

The new craze of planting out lawns is known as "carpet bedding." This style of ornamentation is done by using a low-growing class of plants, which, when planted, grow no higher than the lawn. Designs are made in every conceivable pattern. There is great variety in shading, many possessing a rich metallic luster, so that there is no difficulty in forming beds resembling carpets spread on the green lawn, and having tints more beautiful than a.. can give.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Definition of English Journalists.

Here is the latest definition of English journalists by a journalist: "Irresponsible word-spinners, seldom independent of concealed capitalists, and never independent of momentary favor of a news-seeking class," who "are compelled by the conditions of their trade to scream out immature judgments formed without for reflection or even investigation of the facts."—Cleveland Leader.

BLOWN TO FRAGMENTS.

FRIGHFUL EXPLOSION OF NEW JERSEY GIANT-POWDER WORKS.

MORRISTOWN, N. J., July 3.—A terrible explosion took place at 7:30, Friday morning, at the Atlantic giant-powder works, situated between McCainesville and Drakesville, N. J., resulting in the loss of ten lives and injury to ten or twelve others. The explosion took place in the mixing-house. The loss is not known at present, but will be very heavy. The concussion was felt distinctly for twenty miles around, and glass in houses five miles away was shattered.

The cause of the explosion will probably never be known. A double force of men began work at 7 a. m. Friday, so that business could be suspended from Saturday until Tuesday morning. The explosion occurred in the mixing-room. The building was blown into splinters, and fragments of the bodies of the workmen were picked up 500 feet from the scene. Some pieces were taken from the branches of a tree many yards away. The largest portion of a body yet found will not weigh fifteen pounds. The following are the names of those killed: Charles Jackson, Joseph N. Kinner, George Ammerman, George Hanbill, Theodore Bryan, Charles Milburn, George King, John Smith, and two brothers named Laubach.

The amount of mixture which exploded was about 2,500 pounds. There is a depression in the ground 50x70 feet in area and six feet deep where the explosion occurred. The large fragment of a body recovered by the searchers is the lower part of a man's trunk including part of one thigh. Most of the fragments are less than a foot in size; some not over an inch. A fragment of a skull was found with some splinters of wood three-quarters of a mile away. Most of the men killed leave families.

A FAMILY ANNIHILATED.

Tried to Cross Ahead of a Train with Frightful Results.

BOSTON, July 3.—John Measures, his wife, and two children, 7 and 10 years of age, respectively, of Stoneham, while returning home in a buggy from visiting relatives in Wakefield, were struck at the Albion street crossing of the Boston & Maine railroad in Wakefield, at 8:50 p. m. Friday night, by the Portland express, which was running at the rate of about thirty-five miles an hour. The carriage was smashed into a hundred pieces and all four occupants instantly killed, together with the horses. Measures and the cover of the buggy were carried on the pilot of the locomotive to Wakefield Junction, a distance of a third of a mile from the scene of the accident.

Fourteen Lost Their Lives.

BERLIN, July 3.—Fourteen persons were killed by the railway accident at Wurzburg. Ten of them were mangled beyond the possibility of recognition.

Eight Hours for Government Employes.

WASHINGTON CITY, July 3.—The first comptroller of the treasury has made a decision that whenever laborers, workmen or mechanics employed in any of the executive departments, are required to work more than eight hours a day they are entitled to extra compensation for the extra work unless there is a contract with the head of the department to the contrary. The decision applies only to the three classes named, and not to clerks and other employes.

No Show for Hennepin Canal.

WASHINGTON CITY, July 3.—The Star says it is probable that the president will not be given an opportunity to veto the river and harbor bill. The members of the house committee, being assured that he would be apt to disapprove it, are determined not to agree to the senate amendments, particularly that which provides for the Hennepin canal.

The Sullivan-Mitchell Fight Off.

NEW YORK, July 3.—The Sullivan-Mitchell match at the Polo grounds Monday night is declared off, on account of the police interference. Sullivan said Friday night that the match would nevertheless come off, either in New Jersey or Pittsburg, as soon as matters could be arranged.

Public Building Bills Signed.

WASHINGTON CITY, July 3.—The president has signed bills for the construction of public buildings at Peoria and Des Moines.

A Little Sufferer,
CLEANSED, PURIFIED AND BEAUTIFIED BY THE CUTICURA REMEDIES.

It affords me pleasure to give you this report of the cure of our little grandchild by your Cuticura Remedies. When six months old his left hand began to swell and had every appearance of a large boil. We poulticed it, but all to no purpose. About five months after it became a running sore. Soon other sores formed. He then had two of them on each hand and as his blood became more and more impure, it took less time for them to break out. A sore came on the chin beneath the under lip, which was very offensive. His head was one solid scab, discharging a great deal. This was his condition at twenty-two months old, when I undertook the care of him, his mother having died when he was a little more than a year old, of consumption (scrofula of course). He could walk a little, but could not get up if he fell down, and could not move when in bed, having no use of his hands. I immediately commenced with the Cuticura Remedies, using the Cuticura and Cuticura Soap freely, and when he had taken one bottle of the Cuticura Resolvent, his head was completely cured, and he was improved in every way. We were very much encouraged and continued the use of the remedies for a year and a half. One sore after another healed, a bony matter forming in each one of these five deep ones just before healing, which would finally grow lose and were taken out; then they would heal rapidly. One of these ugly bone formations I preserved. After taking a dozen and a half bottles he was completely cured, and is now, at the age of six years, a strong and healthy child. The scars on his hands must always remain; his hands are strong, though we once feared that he would never be able to use them. All that physicians did for him did him no good. All who saw the child before using the Cuticura Remedies and see the child now consider it a wonderful cure. If the above facts are of any use to you, you are at liberty to use them.
MRS. E. S. DRIGGS.
May 9, 1885. 612 E. Clay St. Bloomington, Ill.

The child was really in a worse condition than he appeared to his grandmother, who being with him every day, became accustomed to the disease.

Catharral Dangers.
To be freed from the dangers of suffocation while lying down; to breathe freely, sleep soundly and undisturbed, to rise refreshed, head clear, brain active and free from pain or ache; to know that no poisonous, putrid matter defiles the breath and rots away the delicate machinery of smell, taste and hearing; to feel that the system does not, through its veins and arteries, suck up the poison that is sure to undermine and destroy, is indeed a blessing beyond all other human enjoyments. To purchase immunity from such a fate should be the object of all afflicted. But those who have tried many remedies and physicians despair of relief or cure.

Sanford's Radical Cure meets every phase of Catarrh, from a simple head cold to the most loathsome and destructive stages. It is local and constitutional. Instant in relieving, permanent in curing, safe, economical and never-failing.

Sanford's Radical cure consists of one bottle of the Radical Cure, one box of Catharral Solvent, and one Improved Inhaler, all wrapped in one package, with treatise and directions, and sold by all druggists for $1.00.

BOWEL TROUBLES
AND CHILDREN TEETHING.
There are very few who do not know of this little bush growing alongside of our mountains and hills; but very few realize the fact that the little purple berry, which so many of us have eaten in most every shape, there is a principle in it having a wonderful effect on the bowels. Dr Bigger's Huckleberry Cordial is the GREAT SOUTHERN REMEDY that restores the little one teething, and cures Diarrhœa Dysentery and Cramp Colic.

When it is considered that at this season of the year sudden and dangerous attacks of the bowels are so frequent, and we hear of so many deaths occurring before a physician can be called in, it is important that every household should provide themselves with some speedy relief, a dose of which will relieve the pain and save much anxiety. Dr. Biggers' Huckleberry Cordial is a simple remedy which any child is pleased to take.

If your husband finds fault with you, do you know how to make him good humored? Give him a cup of Brace & Brown's Faultless Tea.

Sensation in Janesville.

When Dr. Miner advertises this place, claiming to cure all chronic conditions pronounced incurable by the medical profession, without medecine, there went up a cry at once, "Another humbug! Traveling quack, &c." The doctor said not a word, but commenced his labors less than two weeks since; to-day he has the blood circulating in palsied limbs; in old rheumatic cases; pain lessening by first treatment, and to-day they walk as living witnesses of the truthfulness of his statements. Daily he turns away cases for lack of time to treat them, and has not failed to give relief in every instance. Yes, it is wonderful.

When curfew tolls the knell of parting day,
And wife and children waiting are for me;
I pass by Brace & Brown's grocery on the way.

No Paper on Monday.

In order that all employees connected with the Gazette Printing Company may have an opportunity to celebrate Independence Day, in their own way, and in keeping with the time honored custom, no paper will be issued at this office on Monday next.

Brieflets.

—Bower City band concert—court house park—this evening.

—Celebrate the fourth of July to-morrow by attending church.

—Will the Recorder's "Chronic Kicker" sign the petition for the Evansville cut-off?

—The water in Rock river at this point is now lower than it has been for several years.

—A large number of Janesville people will attend the celebration at Beloit on Monday.

—A party of Janesville young people are celebrating the Fourth at Johnstown this afternoon.

—The street railway company intend to complete the paving of their track on Milwaukee street by this evening.

—Charley Hilt was on a drunk last night, and was arrested. He is before the municipal court this afternoon.

—A grand picnic will be held at Crystal Springs July 5th, 1886. Refreshments will be furnished on the grounds.

—Don't forget the picnic given at Pope's Springs by the Woman's Relief Corps, G. A. R., on Monday next.

—The "pay car" of the street railway is in the city, and the laborers will receive their pay this afternoon and evening.

—The eleven year old son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Kath died at his home in the fifth ward last night. Notice of the funeral will be given hereafter.

—Sheriff Hanthorn emphatically denies that he is a candidate for re-nomination, and says under no consideration will he be a candidate at the approaching convention.

—Born, yesterday morning, to Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Bailey, a son. The firm of Bort, Bailey & Co., continue to sell dry goods cheaper than ever—and all concerned are happy.

—It is probable that the Angleworm club shoot at Bunker Hill, on Monday will be an interesting affair. Shooting will commence at 10 o'clock in the morning and continue most of the day.

—There is considerable "fault found" because there is to be no celebration of the Fourth of July in this city this year. Those who are complaining should have stepped forward in time and made the arrangements.

—During the months of July and August Mrs. Cook's studio will be open in the forenoon only, of Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays. Private lessons given at the residence on Milton avenue when desired.

—There will be three popular dances in the city on Monday evening: The T. A. & B. society, at the Guards' armory; the Ancient Order of Hibernians, at the rink; and the Concordia society, at Concordia hall, Mitchell block.

—The people of Appleton and Menasha are agitating the building of a street railway connecting the two cities, a distance of six miles. Capitalists from South Bend, Ind., will build and operate the road, provided they can secure a franchise.

—The grass in the lower end of the court house park, with the exception of a few bunches of clover, is all dead, and the ground is as brown as in mid-winter. The trees begin to show the effects of the long drouth, and will soon die if not attended to.

—Reference to the Sunday announcements will indicate that several of the city pastors will observe the national holiday by preaching sermons in the morning appropriate to the occasion. The churches should all be well filled in honor of the day.

—The thermometer from which we note the temperature registered at one o'clock to-day 101 degrees. This thermometer hangs on the north side of an out building, about six feet from the ground, and the sun does not shine upon it until about four o'clock in the afternoon.

—The engine house to the Chicago & Northwestern water tank at Evansville caught fire yesterday afternoon and burned to the ground. It was feared that the fire would spread to the ware houses near by but it was put under control and comparatively little damage was done.

—The very excellent sermon of Rev. Father Roche on the saloon business, a synopsis of which appeared in the Gazette of last Monday, has elicited considerable discussion. Rev. T. DeWitte Peake, pastor of Court Street church will handle the subject from another stand point in his lecture to-morrow evening.

—Bertha Carlson, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Carlson, of the fourth ward, died at her home late yesterday afternoon. The funeral was held this afternoon, the Rev. J. F. Conover, D. D. officiating and the remains of the little one were then tenderly laid at rest in Oak Hill cemetery. The parents will receive much sympathy in their sad bereavement.

—About one and a half miles of the street car track has been laid, including the iron reserved for the turn-outs and switches. There is not enough iron rails to reach the cemetery gate, the distance having been wrongly calculated. It will be some days yet before the cars will be put upon the track—not until the road is thoroughly balasted and put in perfect order, which Mr. Murry intends to do next week.

—The out of door concert by the Bower City band will be given this evening in the Court House park. It will be in the end of the park toward Main street, instead of at the band stand as has been stated by the Recorder. The statement in the Gazette that the concert was to take place last evening was made upon the authority of a member of the band, he supposing at that time that it was correct.

The base ball editor of the Edgerton Tobacco Reporter was a little mixed up in names when he said that the Janesville Base Ball club played in Albion Sunday. The club was composed of young men from this city, but they were not the "Janesvilles" who play with the Evansvilles Monday. The Janesvilles or F. F. J's, are all strictly moral young men, and when the game spoken of was in progress, they were all busy at home reading up on the Sunday School lessons for the last quarter.

—He was badly gone, and it was only by a great effort that he managed to steady himself enough to look in at a jewelry window where a "regulator" was ticking off the minutes. He stood there so long that a friend who was standing near by came up to see what was going on. "I shay (hic) Billy," remarked the exhilorated one, pointing at the clock as the other approached, "whasser masser (hic) wiz it? "Can't tell (ic) what time it is—hands going round like a blasted (hic) pin wheel." His Fourth was commencing early.

—Our reports up to this date show that no fears need be entertained in regard to Canada thistles being a small crop. The acreage this year is much larger than usual. Cut worms, potato bugs cyclones or even anarchists have failed to effect the tender little plants in the least. In fact the season has been better than was really necessary and some roads on the outskirts of town are well fenced in with the clinging tendrils and bright foliage of this universal favorite. According to law the crop belongs to a commissioner appointed by the common council, and it seems as though arrangements should be made for a harvest before much more time elapses. On the hill beyond Monterey bridge would be a first rate place to commence if there is any doubt in the matter.

—Quite often some one regrets that certain news items were not in the paper. So does the editor. A minister wanted some church news, but does not want it bad enough to come around and say so. Some one has been away on a visit, or has had a nice social party, or has made some new improvement, but thinks it not worth while to notify the editor. A gentleman remarked not long ago that he may come and go forever, but the paper would never mention it. The fact is, he is a very clever gentleman when you meet him and draw him out, but he never comes to the office except when he wants to pay his subscription—we are glad he comes that often—and hence an editor never can mention him unless he happens to find out something.—Exchange.

—There is one box in front of a store on West Milwaukee street that attracts an unusual amount of attention just now. It is a very innocent looking affair; and standing in a shady spot, is nearly always occupied as a settee by some weary wayfarer. But harmless as it looks, there is an unsuspected danger that lurks within it. No sooner does anyone get fairly seated than a small boy, creeping up behind, on hands and knees, touches a match to what looks like the loose end of a piece of twine sticking out through a crack. Something begins to sizzle under the unsuspecting victim, and just as he finishes wiping the sweat from his hatband there comes an explosion that makes him think of Fenian outbreaks. A firecracker built up like a length of stovepipe answers almost as well as dynamite, and the look of surprise that floats over the face of the one who is being operated upon, as one end of his seat suddenly jumps up in the air, always meets with hearty applause.

OUR CITY SCHOOLS.

The Next School Year to be Thirty-Eight Weeks.

A Lively Discussion Upon Several Points.

A High School Library.

The monthly meeting of the school board was held in Clerk Judd's office last evening. All of the commissioners answered to the roll call except President Miner and Commissioner St. John. The latter gentleman came in and took his seat during the reading of the minutes.

Commissioner Bowles was elected president pro tem.

The minutes of the last two meetings were read and approved and several bills were presented and allowed. Since the last meeting the sum raised by the special school tax has come into the treasury and City Treasurer Murphy's report showed the balance in the school fund to be $6,303.21.

The matter of hiring janitors for the ensuing year was brought up, and it was suggested that some understanding be reached about the practice of paying them extra for much of the work that they were hired to do in the first place. Every little job of work, such as cleaning up around the yards or removing ashes, is charged for extra, and complaint has been made because the school premises are kept in such an untidy condition.

Commissioner Holloway suggested that one of the janitors be hired for the entire year; and be expected to clean out each building thoroughly during vacation, and visit school property as often as the board may see fit. The matter was finally laid over until the next meeting.

Superintendent Keyes presented a schedule of the terms in the coming school year. He was in favor of commencing September 1st, and running sixteen weeks. Commencing again on January 8th, after a two-weeks vacation, he would have an eleven-weeks term, then a two-weeks vacation and another eleven-weeks term, ending June 23d. This would make a school year of thirty-eight weeks.

Commissioner Wilson moved to amend by making it thirty-six weeks, but his amendment was not seconded and the recommendation as originally offered was adopted, all voting aye but Commissioner Wilson.

Superintendent Keyes brought up the matter of salaries in the high school room. He said that the third assistant, Miss Carrie Zeminger, was doing the same work as the second assistant, but was receiving ten dollars a month less.

Commissioner Valentine moved that the salary of the third assistant be fixed at fifty-five dollars per month for the ensuing year, instead of forty-five, as it now is. The motion was lost. Ayes—Holloway, Judd and Valentine; noes—Wilson and Bowles.

Commissioner Wilson said that the matter should have been brought up when the teachers were engaged. He was in favor of raising the salary, but thought it strange that Commissioner Valentine thought so much about it just now. In years past, when that gentleman had been on the board, matters had been allowed to run along as they were, without anything being said.

Commissioner Valentine—"Your memory is poor. I have always been in favor of raising it and I can't see why one young lady should receive ten dollars a month less than another when both are doing the same grade of work."

Commissioner Wilson then moved to make the salary fifty dollars a month. This was lost. Wilson, Bowles and St. John voting aye; and Holloway, Valentine and Judd, no. It was held by those voting against the motion that fifty dollars was not enough.

Superintendent Keyes said that there was a probability that the mixed grammar room in the third ward building would be needed next term for high school purposes. He wanted to know what would be done with the pupils who had been occupying it during the year. The matter was left in the hands of the building committee with a view to ascertaining the cost of fitting up another room in the Central building.

The superintendent spoke of the need of a high school reference library of about one hundred volumes. This was also put over until the next meeting.

The board then adjourned until July 16th at the same time and place.

The Fourth at Beloit.

The Beloit Free Press of last evening publishes the following programme for their celebration on Monday. Those intending to visit the Line City on Monday will make a note of it:

"Ten o'clock, grand procession, composed of bands of music, military, firemen, trades and business representatives chariots and tableaux cars, and a carnival cavalcade.

Two o'clock, firemen's tournament and water throwing contest.

Three o'clock, aquatic races and exhibitions, and first appearance of the Wilson life preserver, a great curiosity.

Sports for all, and any amount of fun.

Four o'clock, patriotic addresses and music.

Half past eight o'clock, magnificent display of fireworks.

The exercises arranged embody many novel features, which will entertain every body.

The promises are for a large attendance of country people, and plenty of enjoyment for all."

The Weather.

At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer indicated 65 degrees above zero. Clear with south wind. At one o'clock p. m. the register was 101 degrees above zero. CHURCH DIRECTORY.

Giving the Time and Places Where Divine Services Will Be Held on Sunday.

In the Lord put I my trust; how say ye to my soul, Flee as a bird to your mountain? For, lo, the wicked bend their bow, they make ready their arrow upon the string, that they may privily shoot at the upright in heart. If the foundations be destroyed, what can the righteous do? The Lord is in his holy temple, the Lord's throne is in heaven; his eyes behold, his eyelids try, the children of men. The Lord trieth the righteous; but the wicked and him that loveth violence his soul hateth. Upon the wicked he shall rain snares, fire and brimstone and a horrible tempest; this shall be the portion of their cup. For the righteous Lord loveth righteousness; his countenance doth behold the upright.

OBITUARY.

MRS. GEORGE SCHAFFNER.

At her home in Whitewater, last evening, Mrs. Sarah Schaffner, wife of Mr. George Schaffner, passed to her heavenly reward. Deceased had been a patient sufferer with consumption for several months. She and her husband resided in Janesville for many years, removing to Whitewater about four years since. But a short time ago the family brought their only child here for burial, and now the deeply bereaved husband returns with the remains of his wife, whose spirit has joined that of her little daughter waiting on the shores of eternity. The deceased was a sister of Mr. James Yates. The funeral will be held at two o'clock to-morrow afternoon, brief service being held at the grave at Oak Hill cemetery. The bereaved husband will have the sympathy of a large acquaintance in Janesville.

THE CUT OFF.

Arrangements for the Canvass for Signatures of Tax-Payers.

Arrangements have been made for a thorough and immediate canvass of the city for the signatures of tax-payers favorable to the building of the Evansville cut off, and the work of canvassing will be commenced on Tuesday next. Public sentiment, we think, is strongly in favor of the building of this road, in fact those who are open in their opposition, appear to be but few. The stockholders have appointed the following committees to make the canvass:

First ward—Stanley E. Smith and J. P. Baker.

Second ward—O. F. Nowlan and S. C. Burnham.

Third ward—Charles E. Conrad and William B. Conrad.

Fifth ward—T. B. Leahey and M. Dawson.

CIRCUIT COURT.

A Divorce Granted in the Humphrey Case—Other Matters.

The case of Theresa M. Humphrey against Dr. H. S. Humphrey came up for trial this morning. Carpenter & McGowan appeared for the plaintiff and B. F. Dunwiddie for the defendant. The grounds alleged were desertion and failure to support, and after hearing two witnesses the decree was granted. Mrs. Humphrey is to have the custody of the child and fifteen dollars a month as alimony.

In the case of Childs against the Harris Manufacturing Co., a demurer to the complaint was taken under advisement.

The question of alimony was argued in the divorce case of Hurd against Hurd. Fifty dollars suit money and the sum of twelve dollars a month was ordered.

The appeal of a saloon keeper named Neider, from a judgment of twenty five dollars rendered against him in the municipal court three years ago, for selling liquor without a license, came up for trial. The judgment of the lower court was affirmed.

The suit of T. M. Hibbard against Thomas Kirk for settlement of a promissory note was decided in favor of the plaintiff, he receiving a verdict of $851.31.

The motion for an extension of time to file an amended answer in the case of Leavitt against the Chicago & Northwestern railway was granted and the time fixed at July 17th.
